You shall not turn over any of your property to any creditor or party in interest without the bankruptcy Trustee's knowledge and consent, unless so ordered by the United States Bankruptcy Court.

You shall preserve all recorded information, including books, documents, records and papers, from which your financial condition or business transactions might be ascertained and make the same available to the United States Bankruptcy Court and/ or the Trustee when requested to do so.

You shall cooperate with the Trustee as is necessary to enable the Trustee to perform the Trustee's duties as required by law.

You shall make available and turn over to the Trustee any property that you acquire or become entitled to acquire within 180 days after the date of the filing of your bankruptcy petition, if such property or your rights to acquire such property is:

You shall personally appear at a meeting of creditors on the date and time and at the place set by the U. S. Trustee as set forth in a notice which you have or will soon receive. That meeting may be adjourned and subsequently reconvened by the Trustee and, if so, you shall appear on the date and time scheduled.

At the Trustee's request, you shall make all reasonable efforts to provide the Trustee with your homestead deed, if any, and any and all deeds to real property, as well as documentation evidencing the liens on all of your encumbered assets and any other documentation requested by the Trustee. You shall promptly file any and all necessary amendments, modifications or clarifications to any schedules or statements as requested by the Trustee.

Before your case is closed, you shall immediately advise the Court and the Trustee, in writing, of any change of your address. You are advised that it is your responsibility to review any returned mail which needs a corrected address.

You shall obey all orders of the United States Bankruptcy Court and your responsibility for doing so does not cease even after a discharge is granted. The discharge does not conclude your bankruptcy case. A discharge may be revoked, for cause.
